

Topic Choice

Initially, I was interested in creating a digital photobook, similar to Facebook, but designed to be a more local social networking system for close family or friends to be able to access photos and shared memories and interact with the site as a scrapbook.

However, to more closely align my project with the themes of ISEA 2016, I switched my project to fall under Noise Contra Signal. My project will focus on vocal data recording and organization for feedback.